AT HOME AGAIN

We beg to most gratefully acknowledge words of sympathy from our numerous friends during our late misfortune, and to assure them of our sincere appreciation.

The generosity of the stockholders of the GARDEN ISLAND Publishing Co. has enabled us to equip the new plant with the very latest machinery and type designs, thereby placing us in a position to execute work as satisfactorily and economically as first-class work can be done in any printing plant in Hawaii. We are starting with a very satisfactory advertising patronage, which we shall make every effort to maintain by extending every possible courtesy to our subscribers and advertisers.

The new building has a floor space 22x62, exclusive of the editorial room. The press room is equipped with two platen and one combination cylinder jobber and newspaper presses, while every type face in the establishment is absolutely new and of the very latest designs.

The fire which destroyed our old plant also destroyed many valuable records which fact may likely cause some little confusion in regard to accounts, receipts etc. and in the event of such a state of affairs arising, we trust our patrons will bear with us, and render all possible assistance in bringing about satisfactory results.

THE FAIRCHILD RESOLUTION TO CONGRESS

The resolution introduced by Senator Fairchild and passed during the closing days of the recent Legislative session, will, if its recommendations are agreeable to Congress, go far toward solving the question of how to get the Government and the plantations together on the subject of home-steading in Hawaii.

The plantations are at present the life of the Territory, and the thoughtful and far-thinking men of the Islands are not in favor of seeing them unjustly treated or inequitably hampered in their business operations.

On the other hand, on the successful application of up-to-date homestead laws will depend, to a great extent, the life of the Territory, as an American outpost. If every effort is not made to develop our free American citizenship, the prospect is, at the present rate of their increase, that before very many years have passed the control of our government will be in the hands of the descendants of our present Asiatic, alien, population. This is a result that can only be viewed with apprehension by our citizens, be the definite results what they may.

As the situation is at present, it will not be fair to the sugar plantation-interests to give any body of perhaps irresponsible citizens the right to demand that the plantation shall give up to them, for cultivation, any portion of the producing cane lands, on their demand. Nor will this be necessary, we believe, for the best advancement of the homesteaders cause, although such action may be taken by the Plantations themselves, as has already been done, in several instances, to the mutual benefit of both themselves and the settlers.

But the Government can well afford to leave such action entirely in their hands.

On the other hand, there are thousands of acres of public land in the Territory which, with the aid of the surveys, road-building, and other improvements for which aid is recommended by the Fairchild resolution, will be ideal lands for the civilization of other valuable crops besides sugar-cane by the small farmers, or for the homes of those who are so situated that they can get employment on the plantations themselves, either under the independent contract system which has been producing such satisfactory results during the past few years, or else under the direct supervision of the plantation lunas themselves.

The principal result to be sought now is that the settlers shall have land of their own upon which they can make their homes. Beyond that, the question of how they are employed, or whose lands they may operate upon, is of lesser importance.

As time goes on, and the small farmers become acclimated here, and accustomed to the work of operating the canefields, it may be found advisable to allow them to hold and cultivate their own cane lands. But until they have the experience necessary to conduct the somewhat complicated cultivation of sugar cane on economical and successful lines, it will be necessary to leave the control of these lands in the hands of those who own the sugar mills, for their own protection.

If the intent of the Fairchild resolution, passed by the Legislature, be followed to the letter, we believe it will mean a great step in advance for the betterment of the free citizen population of Hawaii, on American lines.

FROM the way the Hilo High School scandal has been passed along, it is evidently a case where disinfected gloves play an important part. Prof. Wood's attitude in the matter is, to all interested parties, a highly commendable one, and had his views been otherwise, there is much which could and perhaps would, have been said against an educator of Mr. Wood's ability and standing, who would permit his school to be placed in the compromising position which would surely follow, if the present appointment should become a reality.

FURTHER indication that our road work is in the hands of a competent man is shown in the excellent piece of work nearing completion in Molokai Gulch, where an old shackle of a bridge has been replaced by a beautiful fill. The weather being favorable, work is being carried on in a very satisfactory manner.

It is reported that not a few of our citizens frequent the new town site which will be known as "Harbor View," for the purpose of selecting the choicest lot. There is every indication that these lots will soon reach the market.

Now that the Legislature is pau, our citizens should lay plans looking towards a suitable location for that Agricultural School.

It is up to the Department of Education to give Prof. Richmond a pension.

Educational

NEXT YEAR'S SCHOOL DAYS

The next school year will be composed of the following terms as fixed by the Board of Education: Full term, fourteen weeks, September 18 to December 15.

Winter term, thirteen weeks, January 2nd, to April 15.

Spring term, eleven weeks, April 15 to June 28, which will complete a school year of thirty-eight weeks.

VACATION DAYS COMING

Teachers and pupils alike in our public schools are making preparation for closing exercises. Excellent work has been done by Kauai's teaching staff this year, for which much of the credit must be attributed to the systematized methods introduced by our supervising principal.

Trent Trust Company Reports

(Too late for last issue.)

Honolulu, April 28th, 1911.
The First Trust Co. of Hilo, Ltd.

Gentlemen:

There was but little in the way of new developments to cause any change in the condition of the stock market during the week.

Sugar prices weakened, somewhat, judging from the quotations received on Beets, none having come to hand on centrifugals, but this was not enough to cause any weakening in values.

Reports from nearly all the plantations are of a very encouraging nature and would naturally go far to offset any adverse reports emanating from other causes such as labor shortage, tariff agitation, &c.

As an indication of this, we wish to call your attention to the purchase of about 3000 shares of McBryde by the same interests who recently made other large purchases of this stock.

The reports from this plantation are particularly encouraging and the final successful outcome now seems but a matter of time. The many difficulties this plantation has experienced are gradually being overcome.

Waialua is still in considerable demand and was traded in quite extensively during the week. Oahu fluctuated between $30 and $29 1-2 with sales today on the street at $30. Ewa is inactive but can be bought round $31 1-4. H. C. & S. Co. sold freely at $39 1-2 and is now offered at this figure. Pioneer remains at $205 with but few sales. Olua sold today at $4 3-8 at which figure all recent sales have been made.

Yours truly,

TRENT TRUST CO. LTD.
